New Bill Authorizes Agreements For Administration of Labor Laws

By Chester Bloom

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, April 29—It was learned here today that the new federal "model" labor relations bill authorizes the minister of labor to make a bi-lateral agreement with any province for the administration of provincial labor laws.

THE EFFECT of this would be to enable the federal government to intervene in a provincial employer-employee dispute if it threatens to imperil the welfare of the nation as a whole.

Other features of the new bill include:

A federal labor relations board to succeed the wartime labor relations board.

Collective bargaining between employers and "bargaining agent" of the employees made compulsory.

TRADE UNIONS made the appropriate "bargaining agent."

The federal board authorized to certify trades unions as bargaining agents.

Authorizing the minister of labor to name industrial inquiry commissions to inquire into subjects referred to them and with authority to act to maintain industrial peace and settle disputes.

Forbidding strikes during lifetime of a collective agreement.

WHERE COLLECTIVE agreements have expired, strikes forbidden until a conciliation board has endeavored to obtain an agreement and its report has been in the hands of the minister of labor fourteen days.

Authorizing union membership as a condition of employment subject to agreement by employer and employee.

No union believed to be dominated by an employer to be certified as a "bargaining agent."

The foregoing authorities apply to employment within federal jurisdiction such as railways, canals, harbors, air lines etc., except where a province agrees that the federal board may intervene in a dispute under provincial laws.

THE FEDERAL government has rejected a suggestion of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association that strike votes should be supervised by the new federal labor relations board or the federal minister of labor. Also rejected was a suggestion by the CMA that individuals or unions distributing literature with respect to terms and conditions of employment with an employer be required to put their names, addresses and date of issue on the pamphlet.

The intent of the bill apparently is to leave the taking of a strike vote with the "bargaining agent" of the employees.

THE B.C. legislature recently enacted a law providing for supervision of strike votes by the provincial minister of labor or his representatives.

The new bill also leaves to collective bargaining the establishment of compulsory arbitration of wages and working conditions. The federal labor relations board would adjudicate questions arising from collective agreements.

UNDER THE definitions of the bill, a collective agreement besides covering working hours, pay, etc., would extend over "other terms and conditions." An employee would not cease to be such merely by reason of a strike, lock-out or dismissal contrary to collective regulations.

The right of employees to belong to trade unions is specifically declared in the bill.

Surprise Package Budget Expected

By George Kitchen

OTTAWA, April 29—(CP)—Official Ottawa—with the rest of Canada keeping company—sat tight today amid predictions that Finance Minister Abbott's budget speech will be a "surprise package."

"LIKE ITS predecessors, this budget has been a closely-guarded state secret and speculation has been hard to come by and equally difficult to pin down in government circles.

However, three features of the document, being presented to the commons tonight, are being predicted:

1. The final draft contains greater personal income tax reductions than had first been anticipated.

2. A change—very likely downward—will be made in the excise tax applying to cigarettes and possibly some other tobaccos.

3. There will be no reduction in the wartime tax applying to postage.

THE EXCESS profits tax applying to business might be reduced.

Bevin Tells Britons To Have Patience

LONDON, April 29—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin returned today from the foreign ministers conference in Moscow and told reporters that "I am not unduly pessimistic, neither am I optimistic" about international affairs.

"I ask the British people to have patience," he said. "We shall reconcile our differences."

BEVIN RETURNED to London by way of Berlin, where he conferred with British control commission officials and discussed the "German problem."

He looked fit, despite the strain of the conference and his trip. He has been in poor health in recent months and his doctor went with him to Moscow.

Bevin said it remained to be seen whether the ministers' London meeting in November would be more successful than the Moscow meeting.

The foreign secretary obviously was disappointed that Moscow had

Britain Won't Act Alone On Palestine

NEW YORK, April 29—(AP)—Britain declared today that she could not be expected to "expend blood and treasure singlehandedly" to carry out recommendations of the United Nations on the future of Palestine.

This was the reply Sir Alexander Cadogan gave when India challenged him to give assurances that Britain would abide by recommendations of the Palestine session of the United Nations Assembly.

The exchange took place shortly after the assembly's steering committee met to decide whether the extraordinary session should be broadened to include consideration of Arab demands for immediate Palestine independence.

Egypt then plunged into the controversy and demanded that the committee act on the Arab demands either before or along with Britain's proposal for creation of a fact-finding committee to report back on the Palestine question at the September meeting of the assembly. Russia also supported this view.

Won't Await "Compromise of Exhaustion"

U.S. Serves Notice on Russia Plans for Europe to Proceed

By Edward E. Bomar

WASHINGTON, April 29—(AP)—The United States served notice on Russia today that she will drive ahead with steps to help speed Europe's recovery without awaiting the big-power "compromise of exhaustion" foreseen by Premier Stalin.

STATE SECRETARY Marshall disclosed the Soviet leader's suggestion and the American reply in a plain-spoken report to the people last night on the Moscow foreign ministers' conference.

Stalin told him at their meeting two weeks ago, Marshall said, that the Big Four powers might be able to compromise all their major differences "after they had exhausted themselves in dispute."

Marshall put the blame squarely on Russia for the failure of the foreign ministers to agree on a peace treaty for Austria and the rough outlines of one for Germany and declared:

"The patient is sinking while the doctors deliberate."

"I believe that action cannot wait until compromise through exhaustion," Marshall went on. "Whatever action is possible to meet these pressing problems must be taken without delay."

HE DID NOT elaborate on the point. However, one major action already being taken is the economic unification of the British and American zones of Germany designed to make them self-supporting. Marshall said the invitation for Russia and France to

Alberta Farmers Urged To Up Hog Production

By J. V. O'Neill

Following a survey of agricultural opinion conducted throughout the nation, Canada, which has held for years the international reputation as a "bread-basket of the world," is squarely faced with a "no-alternative" demand to change her primary exports from wheat and other grains to greater variety—especially in raw and processed meats—since many other countries prior to the war had developed varying degrees of self sufficiency in grain raising.

THIS WARNING, which may become historic, came Tuesday from Hugh W. Allen of Edmonton, director of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and former minister of lands and mines in the United Farmers of Alberta government.

This national agricultural change is sounded in a clarion call from Alberta where 70,000 out of more than 100,000 farmers are being urged to begin an immediate increase in production of hogs for the clam-

Urges Increase Widows' Pensions

OTTAWA, April 29—(CP)—Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) in the Commons Monday urged the government to increase the allowance paid to widows of non-pensioned veterans.

Speaking on a motion to go into supply, he said the widows were asking that their payment be increased from the present $30.41 a month to $40 and that they be provided with free hospitalization.

Mr. Knowles also suggested the allowance be extended to widows of veterans who fought in the South African and First World Wars.

No Progress Made In U.S. Phone Strike

WASHINGTON, April 29—(AP)—The government last night resumed negotiations on the United States telephone strike after what was officially called a "stormy session."

A Bell System official told reporters: "We are just where we were 10 days ago." Negotiations will be resumed today. The conciliators said the major obstacle was the union's insistence on a dollars and cents wage offer and the company's stand for arbitration.

South Axe-Slaying Probed By Police

MEDICINA HAT, Alta., April 29—(CP)—A blood-splashed room and an axe were being studied today by police as they sought to solve the murder of Peter Nemy, 47, railway section hand whose body was found in bed yesterday with a six-inch gash in the throat.

Chief Constable A. R. Bull of the Medicine Hat police force said it was clearly a case of murder but declined to disclose any details except that the blanket-covered body was found with blood stains on the bed clothes and wall. The blood-stained axe was found hidden behind a pile of boxes in the small cottage where Nemy roomed.

A Royal Canadian Mounted Police dog was scheduled to arrive here this afternoon to assist in the search for the slayer.

Mrs. A. Koenig who lives in the house where Nemy roomed was downtown shopping when the sectionhand's body was found yesterday just before noon. It is believed she was accompanied by Nemy's four-year-old daughter. Nemy was a widower.

School Students Want 5-Cent Bars

Edmonton school children evidently do not intend to deal in half measures in protest against continuance of the eight-cent price on chocolate bars and unless an immediate reduction is forthcoming a school non-attendance strike is being considered.

Jean Allen, 10770 98 street, a 15-year-old Grade 9 student at McCauley school, reported Monday that a resolution passed at a conference of "The Council for Intermediate Schools," made up of students from Highlands, Calder, Westmount and McCauley, was to the effect that, as she put it, "if chocolate bars don't go down to a nickel the students are going to quit school and stay away until they do."

She said the idea was not popular with her parents and some of the other children reported similarly but that the parents were sympathetic toward boycotting purchases of the eight-cent bar.

Miss Allen said the council was composed of about 15 students ranging from 14 to 17 years and represented "about 300 members" from the four schools. To determine further action a meeting will be held Saturday between 3:30 and 4 p.m. at McCauley, she said.

Shouting "Don't buy eight-cent chocolate bars!" and carrying placards, a troupe of youngsters mounted on bicycles rode down Jasper avenue at the noon hour.

The group, a mixture of teen-age boys and girls, had previously "demonstrated" in front of downtown stores and counters where the eight-cent bars are sold.

In B.C. Negotiations

Propose Union Locals
Become Legal Entities

VANCOUVER, April 29 — (CP)— A proposal to make union locals "legal entities"—making them liable to be sued—and provision for contract violation penalties in future agreements was made Monday as employer-union negotiations for a 1947 contract in British Columbia's coastal region continued here.

R. V. STUART, acting for some 250 operating companies in negotiations with the International Woodworkers of America (CIO), suggested making union locals "legal entities" a new departure in Canadian labor relations.

It is similar to the strike-curb bill passed by the United States House of Representatives and now before the Senate for approval.

There appeared little chance that union representatives would accept the recommendations.

"None of our unions has ever entered into any such undertaking," said Alex McAuslane, vice-president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, of which the IWA is an affiliate. "They would be foolish to do so."

Mr. Stuart claimed contract violation penalties were made necessary by union refusal to accept a recent arbitration award ordering workers to work a 48 hour week in summer months as provided in the 1946 contract.

"Employers do not want a recurrence of this practice which makes a contract a mere scrap of paper."

Under his recommendations union locals would be registered as local entities, accepting liability for damage in case of non-fulfillment of contract provisions. Employers would accept equal responsibility.

MR. STUART proposed that each local put up a bond, in the amount of $10 for each member, under the terms that such bond would be liable for attachment for damages contract violation. Each company would post a bond on equivalent terms.

The IWA, representing 23,000

coast union members, seeks a 20-cent-an-hour pay increase, a 40-hour week and the union shop.

Budget

or even eliminated, despite a fear in some high government circles that abolition of this tax would be unpopular.

However, it is said that this would be one step which would help business to maintain present wholesale and retail price levels.

The extent of the reduction in personal income taxes was not known but it can be said to be "much more" than a 10-per cent cut which had been forecast before the budget went through the final stages of revision.

Some last-minute alterations in the budget were said to have been approved Monday at a cabinet meeting called by Prime Minister Mackenzie King following his return Saturday from a month-long vacation.

THERE APPEARED to be some evidence that an entirely new income tax structure aimed at clearing away war-induced amendments which have cluttered the old act might be announced.

In this event, it is considered possible part of the reduction will be through the raising of basic exemptions, now standing at $750 a year for single persons and $1,500 for those with married status.

A change may be made in the provision in last year's budget which made many husbands of working wives taxable as single persons if their wives earn more than $250 yearly. This action was reported to have resulted in many women in essential jobs, such as nursing, leaving their work.

Soviet Claim

impose their will upon others. "It is perfectly understandable that repeated attempts at revising the Yalta and Potsdam decisions, as in the case of attempts to raise questions which long had been decided, hindered the work of the council and retarded its progress."

As against Marshall's charge that the Soviets did not co-operate in establishing a balanced economy in Germany, as called for at Potsdam, Pravda said:

"WHILE IN THE Soviet zone demilitarization was carried on consistently, as well as denazification and democratization of the German people, in the western zones the liquidation of the military industrial potential is entirely insufficient."

The heads of German monopolistic capital still run the economy of the western zones, Pravda said, adding:

"It must be pointed out that such a pitiful result is a direct consequence of the non-fulfillment of the Potsdam decisions."

Hog Production

orient overseas markets as well as for future trade throughout the world.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King, as well as Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, Progressive Conservative leader John Bracken, Social Credit leader Solon Low, and CCF leader M. J. Coldwell, have been advised of the "Grow Another Hog For Britain" campaign which was launched Tuesday in Alberta and seen as the nucleus of a nationwide return to vastly increased swine production.

THE APPEAL has received the support of Alberta farm organizations and it is expected it will stir complete and enthusiastic approval of all federal and provincial leaders regardless of party interest, since its objective is regarded as one of national economic survival.

In speaking of the campaign Mr. Allen said in part, "It is only necessary to see the very great emphasis which the Ontario government and farm leaders in that province are placing on increased hog production."

"Recently the Ontario minister of agriculture urged farmers of his province to double their present hog production. He gave them the assurance that the government would do everything in its power to make this possible."

Urging farmers to back Canada's fulfillment of overseas contracts in meats Mr. Allen said "even if we are satisfied with our present income from grain it should be obvious to every farmer that the present market for grain cannot be maintained indefinitely and if, when the market for grain shrinks, we have nothing to fall back on we farmers are going to face a difficult situation."

To complete this year's contract with Great Britain another million hogs will be required.

INFORMED OBSERVERS predict that the export market for Canadian meats, especially pork, will become progressively stronger, and they are not unkind of a probable decline in demand for export grain.

Mild alarm is being expressed however over the west's declining hog production. Hog production reached a high peak in 1943-44 and the campaign now underway aims at building up the export market to a high point and maintaining it.

Unreliability of the grain market is based on the memory that during the depression of the thirties Canada had a terrific surplus of wheat which was left idle in storage due to former importer nations having successfully grown much of their own for domestic consumption.

IN ALBERTA as across the Dominion opinions of farmers and expert agricultural observers are reaching rapid agreement on these points.

Prior to the recent war the United States, Argentina, France and some extent Great Britain and Germany all were successfully increasing both their acreage and the milling quality of wheat. Involvement in the war reduced much of this production, and non-production of the vast wheat-rich Ukraine contributed materially in building up the present abnormal export wheat market for Canada.

OBSERVERS SAY this cannot last since in the reconstruction period many of these countries will become self sufficient in grain, with Soviet Russia probably becoming a competitive exporter.

Rudolf Hennig, director of the United Farmers of Alberta, and prominent Saskatchewan farmer said when questioned regarding the campaign, "In my private opinion I feel that while we have a large share of the British bacon market Canadian farmers will certainly never benefit if through short production we fail to meet our contract when they desperately need the food."

"AS A FARMER of 38 years' standing I have had many opportunities to observe the variations of markets and it is my firm conviction that now is the time for farmers of Canada to go into hog production sufficiently to meet our overseas contracts."

Speaking in the absence of the executive which accompanied by heads of the United Farmers of Canada (Saskatchewan section) is interviewing Ottawa agricultural authorities, J. L. McMillan, of Clyde, director of the Alberta Farmers' Union, had this to say about boosting hog production:

"Under any circumstances declining hog population will not await changing or more ideal conditions. If a revival is not started immediately Alberta's farmers will lose out in the long run."

THE DIRECTOR of the union, which has 30,000 members, added, "It is to their interest to get behind boosting hog production to the limit of their best effort."

"If I were on the farm the year around all my coarse grains would be used in the production of livestock and especially hogs."

"The hog has always been recognized as the mortgage lifter," stated Mr. McMillan.

Marshall

join in the arrangement continues in force.

Marshall said guardedly that at Moscow, "possibly greater progress toward final settlement was made than is realized."

"Critical differences were for the first time brought into the light and now stand clearly defined so that future negotiations can start with a knowledge of exactly what the issues and what must be settled."

BUT HE CAUTIONED that the differences between Russia and the western powers are "matters of vast importance to the lives of the people of Europe and to the future course of world history," and added:

"We must not compromise on great principles in order to achieve agreement for agreement's sake."

Stalin, he said, thought that compromises are possible eventually on "all the main questions, including demilitarization, political structure of German reparations and economic unity."

Putting aside diplomatic niceties, Marshall noted that Russia has operated its occupation zone in Germany "practically without regard to the other zones."

Summarizing the foreign ministers conference, Marshall said bluntly:

"AGREEMENT WAS made impossible at Moscow because, in our view, the Soviet Union insisted upon proposals which would have established in Germany a centralized government, adapted to the seizure of absolute control of a country which would be doomed economically through inadequate area and excessive population, and would be mortgaged to turn over a large part of its production as reparations, principally to the Soviet Union."

under the terms of the act but organizing and union activities in working hours are prohibited except by permission of the employer.

AN EMPLOYER would have the right to dispute the authority of a "bargaining agent" to act for employees in a factory or plant. He could apply to the board to revoke the certificate of such agent and the board would have authority to do so.

Collective agreements are to be for not less than one year and must contain a provision for final settlement without stoppage of work, by arbitration of all differences between the parties bound by the agreement. The minister may appoint conciliation officers in disputes where no collective agreement exists, and later a conciliation board.

The federal board is to be the final arbiter in disputes over compelling one of the parties to bargain collectively. Machinery is provided for carrying out such conciliation work.

PENALTIES INCLUDE $10 a day fine for an employee striking illegally and a representative of a trade union calling an illegal strike may be fined not exceeding $100 a day while the union itself could be fined a maximum of $250 for each day the strike continues.

It is learned that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association also asked for a section defining forcible picketing more clearly. This would have forbidden any person or trade union to engage in or support or condone any form of picketing which in any way prevents an employee or other person from entering or leaving the premises or property of an employer. It is understood the question of clarifying the right to picket is still before the cabinet.

The CMA also asked for a provision prohibiting participation in a secondary boycott which would prevent sympathetic strikes. The draft bill so far contains no such provision.

"I HOPED and believed it would be possible to come back with a treaty establishing Austria as an independent state," he said. "Unfortunately agreement was not possible, but a commission has been set up and that result might be achieved at not too distant a date."

"With regard to Germany, on behalf of the government I brought forward on March 31 a set of principles as the next stage in the re-creation of Germany."

"I still think," he added, "that they were the most constructive, comprehensive and best statements put before the conference, and when the time comes for a settlement to be resolved the British government will be very proud of their work."

CJCA Marks Founding

Free Enterprise Said Essential to Radio

Free enterprise created radio and free competition leads to better service to the community through better programs, Don Henshaw, Toronto advertising executive, declared in an address to 300 persons attending a banquet Monday commemorating the 25th anniversary and increase of power in radio station CJCA. The banquet was held in the main dining room of the Macdonald hotel.

RADIO IN A BRIEF quarter of a century has become a utility just as water and electric lights are utilities, the speaker said in an informative and witty address in which he reviewed the history of radio from the "catwaker and galena detector days," to the present when the miracle of world broadcasting is taken for granted.

Radio has been a unifying factor in the lives of the world's nations and in the communities within nations, Mr. Henshaw said.

Despite huge financial investments radio stations that are privately-owned can be "put out of business for good," on the whim of a government official. No other business has so tenuous a background, he thought.

WHEN HE HEARD people urge a government monopoly for radio he did not fear for the radio industry but felt sorry for what would happen to the listeners, Mr. Henshaw said.

Although the public takes for granted any startling achievement of radio, the people in radio take nothing for granted in their efforts to please the listeners, he said.

No industry has so high a percentage of youth and youth is needed in radio.

Youth is not afraid to try something new and radio is by its very nature forever new.

"In private competition in the radio industry the listener is really king," the speaker declared.

THE PRIVATELY owned radio stations that best serve the community will go to the top as in any other business, Mr. Henshaw concluded. He praised CJCA for its fine pioneering and steady service to its community.

Premier Ernest Manning paid a brief tribute to the staff of CJCA at the outset of the banquet.

Gordon S. Henry, manager of CJCA, was in the chair and introduced the following head table guests:

Chief Justice Horace Harvey; Mrs. Ernest Manning, Deputy Mayor; Jack Munro and Mrs. Munro; Mrs. Don Henshaw, Lt.-Cmdr. Rodney Pike, commanding officer HMCS Nonsuch; Lt.-Col. W. W. Lockhart and Mrs. Lockhart; Air Cmdr. J. L. Hurley, senior officer Northwest Air Command, RCAF; Charles E. Garnett, president Edmonton Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. Garnett; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Pearson; Mr. and Mrs. J. Dixon Craig.

MONTREAL, April 29—(CP)—Canadian Pacific Railway Company yesterday reported net earnings of $2,115,016 for March 1947, an increase of $415,875 from the like month in 1946. Gross earnings for the month were $1,699,975 higher than the same period the previous year at $26,953,687 and working expenses increased $1,284,100 at $24,838,671.

Confirm Report

OTTAWA, Ont., April 29—Revenue Minister James McCann Monday afternoon in the House of Commons confirmed the Edmonton Bulletin's exclusive newspaper story of Saturday announcing the resignation of Frank H. Brown as Canada's income tax commissioner.

Take First Step To Control Weeds

WESTLOCK, April 29—The newly formed agricultural service board took its first active step toward the control of weeds in this area at a recent meeting, when agreement was reached between an owner of a half section, whose land has been condemned due to weeds, and the board.

The farmer agreed to undertake the measures as laid down by the board and under the supervision of the field supervisor.

Two of the 12 applications for the post of supervisor were considered eligible and appointment of the supervisor will be announced next week.

MRS. GEORGE BEACH was named president of the Westlock Ladies Curling club at the annual banquet held in the hotel here last week when officers for the coming year were elected.

Vice-president is Mrs. Delpha Miller and second vice-president is Mrs. Irene LaForge.

Others elected were: secretary-treasurer, Mrs. P. Conkin; social convener, Mrs. A. Raines; and social committee to include, Mrs. W. Glover, Mrs. H. Anderson and Miss M. Hogarth.

Past president Mrs. L. Kichham presided at the election of officers, with other guests of honor including past presidents Mrs. J. E. Hunter and Miss W. Macintosh.

Seeding General In South Alberta

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., April 29—(CP)—The Lethbridge Herald in a newspaper story Monday said Southern Alberta farmers now are on the land in all sections and this week will seed general. The paper added: "A little seeding was done over the week-end as fields dried under the warm sun. Satisfactory surface and sub-soil moisture conditions prevail and one Alberta forecast is for a slight reduction of wheat and more acreage seeded to flax and barley."

Opposition Seeks Statement

Ottawa Keeps Silence On Immigration Plans

By D'Arcy O'Donnell
OTTAWA, April 29—(CP)—Some opposition members of the Commons sought unsuccessfully Monday to obtain a statement of government policy with respect to the immigration of displaced persons and refugees from Europe.

THE MEMBERS, some backing up their requests with protests against plans to bring additional Polish war veterans to Canada, said the government should be in a position to say where it stood on the question of allowing displaced persons and refugees to come to Canada. The question was distinct from the long-term immigration policy.

Resources Minister Glen, under whose jurisdiction immigration falls, made no statement before the discussion ended shortly before the dinner recess. The debate was on a motion to go into supply to study departmental estimates. This is a regular Monday procedure to allow private members to air their grievances. Following the recess study of the government's main control bill was resumed.

At the night session, the House adopted three more clauses of the 37-section omnibus control bill, leaving just seven to go, and Veterans Minister Mackenzie said party leaders had agreed to get through the others if possible before Finance Minister Abbott delivered his budget tonight.

SECTIONS PASSING last night were those extending steel control, industries control and emergency shelter regulations.

CBC PRODUCER—Miss Catherine Maciver, Winnipeg, Canadian Broadcasting Corporation talks producer in charge of women's interests in the Prairie region, who arrived in Edmonton Monday morning and is a guest at the Macdonald hotel until Wednesday. She is here to develop new talks material of interest to women and is seeking talent during her visit.

Huge Settlement In Mayer Divorce

LOS ANGELES, April 28—(AP)—Louis B. Mayer, millionaire movie magnate, was divorced Monday by his wife of 43 years, Mrs. Margaret Shenberg Mayer, who receives a cash settlement of $3,250,000.

Mrs. Mayer, 53, at home, was unable to appear personally, and the decree was granted on a deposition read by her lawyer and nephew, Raymond C. Sandler.

Her deposition, dated a week ago, set forth that Mayer came home May 30, 1944, and said: "Well, I'm leaving."

It added: "And then he got up and left. There was no provocation whatsoever and he left without my consent."

Mrs. Mayer, 62, is suffering from high blood pressure and the effects of a paralytic stroke. Mayer, 64, likewise was not in court.

Plead Not Guilty Parents' Murder

SANTA ANA, Calif., April 29—(AP)—Louise Overell, 17-year-old heiress to $200,000, and her boy friend, George Gollum, 21, pleaded innocent Monday to amended indictments accusing them of killing her parents aboard the latter's yacht in Newport Harbor, March 15. Trial was set for May 26.

COLLINTON, April 29—One hundred and fifty friends and well-wishers gathered to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wiltsie on their silver wedding anniversary recently.

High Officers View

Hostile Plane Attack Chance 100-1 Against

By Douglas How
OTTAWA, April 29—(CP)—After consulting various factors with the unemotional logic of the military analyst, one of the higher officers involved in Canada's defence planning estimated today that the odds were 100-1 against any devastating air assault on high priority targets on the North American continent within the next ten years.

IN AN INTERVIEW setting out his own personal conclusions, Col. W. W. Goforth, retiring deputy director of defence research, said he felt that odds against a major war would start at 200-1 against in 1947, decline steadily until 1961-62 and would give away to "a steady lessening of tension and risk after 1962."

Col. Goforth is returning to private business in Toronto after being the right hand man of Dr. O. M. Solandt, director - general of defence research, who sanctioned his statements.

Col. Goforth noted that, entirely aside from the threats of the atomic bomb, "it is conservative to assume that Toronto, for instance, could be easily attacked by conventional air weapons any time after 1957 as Warsaw was by the Luftwaffe in 1939 and as Rotterdam was in 1940."

The officer saw "a sudden and devastating unprovoked attack from the air" as "the real threat—if one may be said to exist at all—to the lives, property and peace of all civilized peoples for the next few decades at least." Because the atom bomb was "one of the cheapest to use—even though the most expensive to produce—it looms largest on the horizon of danger."

He hastened to say he did "not mean that air attack on the North American continent is imminent or that it is the only possibility of danger that we may have to face in the next decade... in my personal view any such devastating attack against high priority targets on this continent during the next 10 years could be reasonably assessed at odds of at least 100-1 against."

Col. Goforth, using his betting odds as a likely way to put across a point, said he felt:

1. The odds against a first class war occurring or prevailing in any one year start at 200-1 against in 1947 and tend to decline steadily thereafter until 1961-62.

THIS ASSUMED both a progressive recovery of the world from the devastation and dislocation of the recent war and a lessening of war weariness.

2. There would be a steady lessening of tension and risk after 1947, based on the predictions of leading scientists that nuclear energy may, by that time, begin to exercise a far-reaching and beneficial influence on the whole cost-output ratio of world production and transportation.

3. However, if a first class war did occur, or prevail in any given year, the technical probability of a major and atomic attack being directed at Toronto or Montreal by a hostile power had a nil risk in the years 1947, 48, and 49.

Ex-Labor Official Guilty of Murder

Politics No Part Job Qualifications

OTTAWA, April 29—(CP)—The government gave its assurance Monday "that applications for jobs in civil service will not be examined on their political affiliations."

That was one of its replies to a series of questions from William Irvine (CCF-Cariboo) which were answered in a Commons' return. They said there was no such thing as a "committee of the loyalty of civil servants" but there was a standing interdepartmental panel of security established in May, 1946 to advise "on the co-ordination of the planning, organization and execution of security measures which affect government departments."

If This be Spring

If this be spring it arrived with a coordinating rise in temperature just when Edmonton people were officially urged to push the hands of the clock along and adopt "daylight saving" time for the summer. That the change was welcome need not be said. The in-between season extended beyond the usual limit and was marked by showers and snow flurries which kept tempers in as unhappy a condition as the street crossings and sidewalks.

Thanks, however, to the early rains and late snow-falls, officials are able to announce that over most of this province the moisture supply in the soil is ample. This apparently holds true also throughout Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Seeding conditions are therefore ideal, and if sowing has been delayed this handicap will be overcome with a continuance of warm weather.

So far as that goes, gardening operations in the city are not behind-time. The "24th" is commonly accepted as a good time to wind up these activities, and that date is four weeks away. There is nothing in the situation to offset the good soil conditions and discount hopes of splendid crops in country and town.

Drawing on Europe

Canada is to "import" sixteen hundred people from Europe to work in the textile and sugar beet industries. That is to say, this number will be allowed to migrate if they wish to do so. For the reason, of course, that Canadians do not take to these lines of occupation. If the industries are to prosper, and expand as other conditions make possible, the labor supply must be drawn from outside sources. Otherwise home-produced shirt material and sugar will have only minor places in the national economy.

It will be recalled that during the war years there was a fairly wide demand that beet sugar production be expanded, and the Dominion Government was blamed for not causing or encouraging this development. But later on it became apparent that but for Japanese and German prisoners-of-war beet-growing would have dwindled away. The return to peace has not brought a movement of man-power to the beet fields, nor apparently to the textile mills. Hence Europe is being drawn upon for labor to keep these industries going and give them a chance to grow.

Another Blockade

For the second time this year the dock workers have tied up the port of London. There were fifty loaded food-ships in the harbor when they walked out, and 150 other vessels ready to load or unload.

It is a "wild cat" stoppage. Conciliation methods were ignored, and the men quit work against the advice of their union officials. The secretary of the Transport and General Workers Union told them they were bringing disaster upon themselves and possibly on the country.

Britain is desperately short of food. It is away behind schedule in its all-important import and export trade. The huge loan secured from the United States is fast melting away. There is talk of new loans having to be sought both there and in Canada.

That gives national and international significance to anything which halts the smooth flow of incoming and outgoing cargoes through British ports. Those gates of commerce should be humming now with larger trade than they have ever known. That will have to come about before the country can get on its feet, pay for its imports with its exports, and start to clear away the debt inheritance from two devastating wars.

How quickly Britain can gain this position depends largely on how great is sympathy abroad for its much-enduring people. With the causes of the dockers' strike outsiders have nothing to do. But the reaction can do nothing to strengthen Britain's appeal for help from abroad. It can only hinder the already lagging struggle of the nation toward recovery.

The Background

If so disposed, the delegates of the United Nations could trace the racial clash in Palestine back to a thousand years before the Christian era. But they are likely to take the practical view that the present trouble began toward the close of World War I. When Allenby's forces swept Turkish power out of that whole area, the question of the future of Palestine emerged. On behalf of the Government of Great Britain, Lord Balfour published his historic note.

This said: "His Majesty's government views with favor the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people, and will use their best endeavors to facilitate the achievement of that object, it being clearly understood that nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine, or the rights and political status enjoyed by Jews in any other country."

France and Italy immediately endorsed this declaration, and President Wilson gave it his approval.

Six years later the League of Nations gave Britain a mandate to administer Palestine. The terms of the mandate pledged Britain to administer the country in a way to "secure the establishment of the Jewish national home."

Unfortunately, neither the note nor the mandate explained what exactly was meant by a "national home." Naturally this phrase was interpreted according to the wishes of parties concerned. Zionists took the term to mean a state occupied and governed by Jews. Arabs and some neutral observers construed it to mean a spiritual home—as Rome is to Roman Catholics in all countries.

Now the United Nations are faced with the question of what can be done to reconcile these conflicting views—and if they cannot be reconciled, which idea should be the basis on which to administer the territory. Britain has not surrendered its mandate. It has asked for advice, but said the advice must be consistent with its obligations if it is to continue to carry the direct responsibility involved.

After Five Years

Major General Tanaka Ryosaburo has at last come to trial, at Hong Kong. He was the Japanese commander who has been accused of directing the murder and torture of Canadian and British prisoners-of-war following the capitulation of that fortress.

That occurred in December of 1941—the month in which the United States was drawn into the war. It is thus more than five years since these crimes were committed. Tanaka, if guilty, has had a long reprieve from trial. If innocent, he has had ample time to gather evidence and prepare his defence.

And on the other side of the world Rudolf Hoess goes to his overdue punishment for having murdered 4,000,000 persons in his extermination camp.

Delays in bringing Japanese and German leaders to trial on charges of wartime criminality have been unavoidable in many cases, presumably so in these instances. This slow grinding of the mills of the gods may not be a matter for regret. It keeps these crimes fresh in the memory of people who are too prone to let them slip into forgetfulness.

Not that it is desirable to store up hatred against enemy peoples, nor even against the perpetrators of outrages. But it is not only desirable, but very urgent, that what these events signify should be kept clearly in mind. They demonstrate beyond all question that there are people living in the world today as cruel as the human monsters of the dark ages.

LIFE'S DARKEST MOMENTS

THE TREE SURGEON RUINS A SENTIMENTAL ANNOUNCEMENT INTENDED FOR POSTERITY—

Must Buyers Strike?

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

On a recent motor trip in the western United States and Canada, my wife and I had a chance to compare prices. We found that the hoarding done by the price controllers in Canada is not justified. In many lines prices are substantially lower in the United States.

There is spottiness in United States prices. In the interior—the small towns—prices of standard goods are lower than they are in the big industrial centres. Travelling expenses are higher in the United States. Hotel rooms and meals cost much more than in Canada.

But the average working man's family and the average farmer is better off south of the line than north of it. That is, what he produces brings a larger net return than in Canada.

THE PRESENT TROUBLE in Canada is that we neither have control nor free enterprise. We have the disadvantages of both and advantages of neither.

Butter illustrates this point. Everybody has known for weeks past that there was to be a farther step in the price control on May 1. The owners of butter have extended till the end of 1948 the wool subsidy program which buys all U. S. produced wool at 42 cents per pound. As the world price is considerably lower than this—even with the price hold-up organization maintained by Britain and three British Dominions—the dilemma is obvious.

A HUNDRED YEARS from now our descendants will read in their history books that these were the facts in 1947.

Hundreds of millions of families were poorly clad. Everybody shivered in Europe and northern Asia. Yet all the while our governments owned outright and held in storage, nearly three billion pounds of wool.

I showed last year that the entire wool surplus could be disposed of in a single year if it was made up into blankets and given away to everybody on earth in need.

A gift to the common peasants of China, Russia, Greece and all the other needy people, of a pair of blankets apiece, would do more to end that criminal talk of "next war" than anything the Big Three statesmen have done yet.

THE U. S. SENATE has just nounced certain actions of foreign powers.

Miss Wambaugh also speaks an expert word on the Greek elections. The country swung to the right. So will every country which is threatened by or has suffered from a left-wing rebellion and massacre. The left abstained from voting and claims to represent the people, but Miss Wambaugh, who was there, states that careful investigations showed it could have marshalled the polls not more than 15 per cent of the electorate.

It is a habit now to denounce as "undemocratic" all conservative regimes, however representative of a majority. Actually, free countries swing from left to right and vice versa in response to conditions, with a tendency to avoid extreme ways. Communism, however, is always a creator of right-wing swings, which is one trouble with it.

But one really loses patience with those persons who prefer to trust the good intentions of any other country than their own; who cry "war" and "imperialism" when the U. S. acts to protect the threatened, and neither report nor denounce.

IT IS CERTAINLY dolorous that two years after a war to end war new armies are being created everywhere and that we have a hamstringing U. N.

But one really loses patience with those persons who prefer to trust the good intentions of any other country than their own; who cry "war" and "imperialism" when the U. S. acts to protect the threatened, and neither report nor denounce.

MISS WAMBAUGH points out that the proposed action is in no sense a violation of the U. N. charter. The charter exists to protect nations from aggression. Every member of the United Nations is under obligation never to act contrary to the charter, but there is no requirement in the charter to act always through the United Nations.

Miss Wambaugh confirms that Greece and Turkey are menaced in their territorial integrity. The distance across Greece from the Yugoslav and Albanian frontiers to the Aegean... is only 75 to 100 miles. In many parts of this line the guerrillas are entrenched and, thanks to the neighbors are... proceeding with their project of cutting off Greek Macedonia... Success would mean that Yugoslavia and Bulgaria would... divide the area... Russia would then be at the Turkish frontier.

It is under these conditions that Greece and Turkey have asked for aid, as they have every right under the U. N. charter to do.

On Chasing Rainbows

BY HARPER PROWSE, MLA

In the American Declaration of Independence "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" are listed as among man's inalienable rights. Succeeding generations right down to the present day have agreed that these are things to which all men are entitled. Yet even a passing glance around the world in which we live should be sufficient to convince the most stubborn person that although mankind may still be pursuing happiness he hasn't caught up with it. In fact, despite the many contributions to our personal comfort which have been made by modern science and engineering, mankind seems to be at least as unhappy today, if not more so, than at any time in history.

This becomes evident when we consider the mass unrest and fear which has gripped people in all parts of the world. It becomes even more evident when one considers the high incidence of mental breakdown and insanity. For it is a generally acknowledged fact that a great deal of insanity is the result of the sub-conscious mind doing what the conscious mind cannot do—permitting the frustrated and unhappy individual to escape from the bitterness of reality in to the dream world of the insane. This too is the most accepted explanation for the wave of "problem drinkers" which is another characteristic of our modern age.

What hope then is there for mankind? Most happiness remains an elusive thing which we may never possess, or possessing momentarily, will quickly slip away. To answer this question it will be necessary to examine the human mind and human nature.

I BELIEVE that one of the reasons we have reached the unhappy state which now exists is that for too many generations we have thought that the way to pursue happiness was to pursue wealth. Employers want higher profits, employees want higher wages. All our values are money values—and we are just beginning to realize that the golden calf is still a false god.

It SEEMS OBVIOUS that bathtubs, telephones, radios, movies, best-selling novels (many of which have tragedy and frustration as their basic themes), automobiles and airplanes, washing machines and electric dishwashers, automatic machines and mass production, while adding to the comfort of man, have failed to add one gram to the total weight of human happiness.

Letters to the editor should be brief and discuss no more than one subject at a time. The name and address of the writer must be included, but not necessarily for publication if the correspondent so requests. Letters that reflect on the property of THE EDMONTON BULLETIN whose editors, for obvious reasons, cannot undertake to enter into correspondence about them, and reserve the right to delete extraneous or unduly controversial matter.

OUR FARMING METHODS Editor Bulletin: The farmer president in the United States is seeking assistance for Europe now because they are short of fertilizer. Enough said. We can look for someone to plead our cause, sooner or later, if we don't cultivate our land differently from what we are doing now. Also if and when we have destroyed every tree in the country we will need assistance from somewhere too.

All we think about now is to get bigger fields and make our lot so much sooner, which is our direct road to the time when we must appeal for assistance too.

THE KING'S NAME Editor, Bulletin—Would you kindly print in your paper His Majesty King George's first name before he became King. Also Her Majesty the Queen's first name. Was it Elizabeth or some other name before she was married?
R. L.
Cadogan.

(The King's Christian names are Albert Frederick Arthur George. Before her marriage the Queen was Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon.—Ed.)

ACCEPTS OFFER Editor, Bulletin—I was surprised when I read in your editorial about the offer of Mr. MacDonald of New Toronto to pay the fare for anyone who would leave Canada for life under the Soviets. It is an extraordinary move. Yet I must say that I agree with it. The world needs more direct action.

Now is the order that the flaunt may not perish for want of fertilization hereby offer myself (if I be acceptable) to be the expedient in the hands of Mr. MacDonald to prove to the world that the Soviets are bad, man-killers. You call it a sport. All right, I shall join in and be the target.

Please convey my acceptance of his offer to Mr. MacDonald, and as I am contributing equally as much to the cause as he is, I shall expect to ride first class.

COST OF MOTORING Editor, Bulletin—The automobile owner of today is penalized in the following ways:

1. He pays a much higher price for his car or other vehicle than in the U.S.A.
2. He pays high duty to the Dominion government if his car is imported from across the line, which is done in many cases, and he pays high taxes on a Canadian make of car, as well.
3. He must pay a higher license fee than in the United States.
4. He pays for his driver's license.
5. He pays for a new scheme of compulsory auto insurance.
6. He pays for five point auto insurance policy.
7. He pays provincial gas tax.
8. He pays a fine for parking (in most cities 30 minute limit).
9. He pays a fine for parking in restricted areas.
10. He pays a fine for going against a red light.
11. He pays a fine for not stopping at a stop sign.
12. He pays a fine for passing a street car when passengers are unloading.
13. He pays a fine for not having a driver's license.
14. He pays a fine for many other things too numerous to mention. In addition to this the auto owner

"PROLETARIAT" Editor, Bulletin—That blessed word "proletariat" seems to have dropped from our vocabulary like a hissing rivet from a steel beam. Can it be that the fluidity of our democratic society makes the class pyramid impossible? Colin Cameron, whose political eminence qualified him to rebuke everybody but Stalin, avoids the obnoxious anachronism. So does Don Tim Buck.

Evidently the proletariat is no longer "on the march." Of course, Montreal-Cartier may have something to do with this.

At all events, "proletariat" seems doomed, if not damned.

Spend About $1,000 On Road Clearings

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, April 28—More than $1,000 was spent during the winter months to keep market roads clear of snow, it was reported recently by the Rocky Mountain town council.

News was received here recently of the death of Ebenezer Beveridge, in Vancouver. He was 76 years old. Mr. Beveridge was publisher of the Mountaineer, from 1926 to 1932, and also practiced law.

BORN IN WINNIPEG in 1871, he taught school in Manitoba before attending the University and law school. He practiced law in Winnipeg for several years, then moved west to Pincher Creek in 1920. In 1925 he came to Rocky and retired in 1932, going to Vancouver with his family. He was married to Maud Ford of Weyburn, Sask., who predeceased him in 1942.

He is survived by one son, John, of Vancouver, and three daughters, Mrs. Lewis H. Gilbert, and Isabel of Vancouver, and Mrs. D. V. Brumwell, Vauxhall.

GUIDES AND OUTFITTERS of the foothills region, east and south of Rocky, met here recently and formed the Rocky Mountain House Outfitters Association. Officers elected were: president, Ray Mustard; vice-president, L. St. Claire; secretary-treasurer, Ken Dazell.

The necessity that all Alberta outfitters be thoroughly organized and represented on the advisory council, was explained by J. R. H. Hall, superintendent of forestry at Rocky. Henry Steffen, president of the Clearwater and West Country Fish and Game Association, spoke briefly on the tourist business in Alberta.

Busy Bees Club Concludes Season

HARDISTY, April 28—A banquet concluded the winter's activities of the Busy Bees Club here recently. R. T. Wright gave an address followed by a toast to the ladies, given by James Johnson. Mrs. R. T. Wright gave a humorous reading "Nothing But Bones Above The Ears."

The club carried out the evening's activities at the home of Mrs. Fred Olson, where they played bridge. The first prizes were taken by Mrs. J. Dobni and J. Crocker, and the consolation prizes went to Mrs. A. MacDonald and R. T. Wright.

A kitchen shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. H. Anderson, who recently took up housekeeping, was given on Tuesday, April 22.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Alberta Is Willing To Share Road Costs

LLOYDMINSTER, April 29—Alberta is "willing to share the cost, with the Saskatchewan government of the building of the Meridian road north, from Lloydminster for a distance of 12 miles," Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, told a delegation headed by Dr. G. L. Cook, mayor of Lloydminster recently.

Others at the meeting were: J. Currie and J. Leighton, reeve and councillor respectively of the Vermilion municipality; S. A. Berg, O. C. Yates, president of Lloydminster and district board of trade and the following board members: A. Miller, A. M. Lovell, R. G. Chapman, and G. K. Ross.

This stretch of road is reported to be in poor condition. Three years ago the two provinces jointly built and gravelled the Meridian road south from Lloydminster 30 miles. This road was widened to 100 feet, and a first class grade built. It is to this standard that the Meridian road north is to be constructed.

A request has been made to the Hon. J. T. Douglas, minister of highways, Saskatchewan, and it is hoped that the two provinces will have the work done this year.

42 Years Service

MIRROR, April 29—Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Lane were guests at a banquet and dance attended by 190 persons after the completion of Mr. Lane's last run from Calgary to Mirror on a CNR passenger train. The run brought to an end Mr. Lane's 42 years of service with the CNR.

Mr. Lane was met at the station by about 125 friends and railway officials, including L. S. Bell, retired engineer who made his last run about ten days ago.

Plan Reunion

WETASKIWIN, April 29—A reunion of all men, who at any time were stationed at the army training centre CIBC No. 132, at Wetaskiwin during the war, is planned.

Any ex-serviceman wishing to attend the reunion is asked to notify V. Hartford, Wetaskiwin, not later than May 7.

Club Re-organized

STONY PLAIN, April 29—The Stony Plain baseball club held a re-organization meeting recently and elected officers for the coming season. Those elected are as follows: President, Tony Derimont and secretary treasurer, Lloyd Willie. They are anticipating a good season of baseball, as many of the local boys have returned from the services.

T. J. Harwick, retired business man of the town, left last Sunday on a trip to England. He operated a general store here from 1908 until last spring.

Stony Plain has joined Edmonton in adopting daylight saving time. The town went on fast time at midnight, Saturday.

Students Return

WASKATANA, April 29—Many of the university students are home this week, having completed their courses for the year. They include: Elaine M. Parker, Mary Chorney, Bruce McCaig and Ronald Fowler. Other students will finish their examinations next week. A few of the above will take

Central Alberta Calf Sale June 14

LACOMBE, April 28—Two hundred calves will be sold at the annual Central Alberta Calf Club's sale, to be held at the Lacombe Pavilion on June 14.

This show and sale will be the largest event of its kind ever held here, and animals will be entered from seven different clubs in Alberta.

Full discussion on plans for the annual event was held earlier this month when directors of the various clubs met in Lacombe. All districts were represented and it was decided that each calf club member should receive the amount paid for his or her entry. This decision automatically nullified the suggestion that all money collected should be pre-acted among calf club members.

Ansley To Address Red Deer Meeting

HON. R. EARL ANSLEY, minister of education, is speaking on Monday evening in a meeting of the Red Deer Lions Club.

He intends to discuss some of the difficulties of education facing Alberta and deal with the economic problems confronting his department and the government.

Reject Request Of Farm Unions

OTTAWA, April 29—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said Monday in the Commons the government has advised two western farmer organizations it has no intention of bringing the Agricultural Prices Support Act before Parliament for amendment this session.

J. W. Burton (CCF-Humboldt) had asked whether the government had considered the joint request of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, and the Alberta Farmers' Union for an extension of the support act.

Windsor Wins 69-60 To Even Cage Series

VANCOUVER, April 29 (CP)—Fighting from the opening whistle, Windsor Assumption College last night defeated Vancouver Meralomas 69-60 to even the best-of-five series for the Dominion basketball championship at two games apiece.

Big Bill Coulthard, stylish collegian forward, sparked the Windsor attack with 23 points. Freddy Thomas was second on the list as he poured 15 points through the hoop, while captain Tom O'Hara was third with 14.

FOR VANCOUVER, it was Sandy Robertson who carried the ball, slipping 15 points through the hoop. Ole Bakken, high scorer in the first three games, managed to get a dozen. Ron Weber was third with 11.

Meralomas were short Jack Pomfret. He was unable to get away from an athletic conference in Seattle, and his absence was really felt in the Vancouver team.

It was a combination of poor shooting and too much Coulthard that beat Vancouver, who had been pre-game, 5-3 favorites to win the title and the championship.

WINDSOR TRIED the zone defence that won them the second game again and it proved very effective as they moved into a commanding 22-8 first-quarter lead. A dazzling comeback soon had Vancouver within distance again and mainly due to eight points by Robertson and seven apiece by Burtwell and Weber they were only five points in the rear, 37-32 at half-time.

The Meralomas spark seemed to die during half-time as Windsor once more gained control of the play. Thomas got red hot and scored 10 points as the collegians pulled away to a 13 point, three-quarter lead of 55-42.

Tennis Meeting Is Well Attended

LLOYDMINSTER, April 30—The Lloydminster Tennis Club was assured of its best season since pre-war days recently by the excellent turnout for the annual banquet and business meeting.

If sufficient competition can be obtained from nearby towns the Tip Top trophy again will be put up for inter-club play. For the last few years the cup has been for local matches only. But it was the opinion of the newly elected executive that with an increasing interest in the game, it may be possible to get sufficient outside clubs to challenge for the trophy. It is also planned to re-open inter-provincial play for the Lloydminster trophy currently held by a team of Edmonton players.

As a result of the election, George Moore retains presidency of the club. Executive consists of the following members: K. Bentley, W. McWhitney, P. McGale, H. Aston, F. Jones, T. McLeod, E. Alexander, J. Sutcliffe was elected secretary-treasurer.

Men's Fastball

Legionnaires of the city men's fast ball league will hold a workout at Victoria High grounds on Wednesday at 7 o'clock.

South Side junior practice is at King Edward school grounds tonight at 7 o'clock.

Soccer Executive Meets Wednesday

Edmonton District Football Association will hold a meeting in the Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening commencing at 8 o'clock.

Following the meeting there will be a written and oral examination for prospective referees on the rules of soccer. Further applications for the position of referee will be accepted at the meeting if received before the examination.

Fastball League For South Side

Bill Runge was elected president of South Edmonton Intermediate Men's Fastball League at the organization meeting held Monday night.

Vice-president of the new loop is Max Bryant and B. Sherwin, F. Hunt and J. Berkhill were chosen trustees. Fred McGowan is secretary.

AN EIGHT-TEAM circuit is planned and seven clubs have entered—South Side Post Office, Bruce Robinson Electric, Eagle Lodge, Western Grocers, Prudman Building Supplies, H. A. Smith Produce and City Police.

Any organization interested in the vacant franchise can secure further information by contacting Secretary McGowan at 34332. The league also is open to receive applications from umpires. All games will be played at the South Side Athletic Park.

Ronnie Etchinson Out for Revenge

Ron Etchinson, handsome young Texan who considered he was "robbed" in last week's bout, is out to square accounts with Al "Lord" Mills in Thursday night's show at the Alberta Avenue Sports Pavilion.

Immediately after he was pinned to the canvas by Mills in last week's engagement which had a unique ending, Ron put in his request for a return match. It was granted and the two big fellows will head the card again.

Tiger Goldstick will open his comeback campaign on the same program when he takes on his cost challenger, Dallord Ouellette. Al Billing will engage Danny Dusek in the semi-undup.

Zale-Graziano Bout on July 16

CHICAGO, April 29 (AP)—The middleweight title fight between champion Tony Zale and Rocky Graziano will be held Wednesday, July 16, at Wrigley Field, the Illinois Athletic commission announced Monday.

The 15-round re-match between Zale and Graziano, who is banned from fighting in New York, was approved by the commission last week.

EAC Practice

Coach Dave Clayton has called a practice of EAC juniors at Ken-frew Park tonight for 6:30.

Archery Shoot

Olga Pawlyshyn, George de Savoye and Homer Getty were the winners in the opening day's archery shoot on Sunday afternoon. The Edmonton Archers Club's range is at 116 street and 111 avenue.

HOCKEY HERO AT WORK: Bobby Carse, who not so long ago was a youngster like the lads surrounding him, is shown signing autographs for his admirers. Bob was named to the American Hockey League all-star team this spring, and is now the property of Montreal Canadiens. He took part in the Canadian-All-Star game last night and made the Edmonton fans happy by scoring a nifty goal. All the players in the two exhibition games were kept busy signing autographs for the "kids", but they didn't seem to mind.

U. of Cal. Students May Play Ball Here

With the opening day of the Big Four Inter-City Baseball League still more than two weeks away, "things are commencing to pop," according to John Ducey, who shares with John Beatty the task of organizing the Edmonton end of the four-club loop.

Art Riechle, baseball coach at the University of California at Los Angeles, told Ducey Monday he wanted to bring his club to Edmonton, but when John learned classes didn't finish until June 16, he quickly lost interest in the proposal.

HOWEVER, Riechle now wants to send ball players up and it's highly probable some will be coming about the third week in June. Jack (Moose) Myers, a first sacker who bats 287 is one. Another is "Stick" Rowland, a second baseman who is clouting .427 in the University conference. Cal Rossi, left field, with an average .247, Doug Sale (third base) who batted .357 last year, Lou Briganti, a shortstop, Ray O'Connor a pitcher and Bill Hicks a catcher are the others whom Coach Riechle is high on.

JOE DEVINE, western representative of the New York Yankees, phoned from San Francisco yesterday. He has two second basemen, two shortstops and a pair of catchers whom he believes would fit in nicely with the two Edmonton clubs, one of which is sponsored by Frank Wolfe of the Edmonton Motors and the other by Brant Matthews of the New Edmonton hotel.

Devine also said that Bill Newman and Ernie Marlow, both of whom played here last season are going well at Twin Falls. Joe plans to come here himself to look the situation over immediately after his forthcoming visit to Victoria, where a Yankee-sponsored club operates in the Western International League.

MESSRS. DUCEY AND BEATTY are awaiting answers to wires dispatched to Art Flores, Gino Valen-ti, Johnny Galvin, David Bam-berger and an Idaho first-baseman, Alvin Walters. Thirty-five players were out at last night's practice at Renfrew Park.

Red Embree allowed the Tigers only one run and three hits for six innings but weakened in the seventh and eighth when Detroit added its other two runs and five blows. Les Willis hurled the ninth after Embree retired for a pinch hitter.

THE INDIANS threatened in the fourth and ninth. Dale Mitchell and Manager Lou Boudreau singled with one out in the fourth but Trout picked Mitchell off third for the second out and then forced Pat Seery to ground out.

The fence, designed to reduce the vastness of the Cleveland Stadium outfield, was installed in about 10 minutes during a pre-game ceremony.

Two trucks, preceded by a marching band, rolled out on the cinder path. A crew lifted sections of the five-foot-high woven wire fence and fastened them without fuss and with little excitement in the stands.

APPROPRIATELY enough, the musical theme was "Don't fence me in." Greatest reduction was made in dead centre from 470 to 410 feet. Left and right fields were reduced from 435 to 365 feet. Bull pens were changed and shifted beyond the barrier into left and right field corners.

All-Stars Triumph In Fine Exhibition

Chicago's Line Draws Plaudits In 7-4 Victory

The hockey season came to an end so far, as Edmonton is concerned last night, and the closing contest left pleasant memories for the fans to dwell upon till the next season rolls around.

NHL All-Stars went one up on Montreal Canadiens with a 7-4 victory before 5,048 customers, and as in the first match here, Chicago's pony line of Doug and Max Bentley and Bill Mosenko drew most of the plaudits.

IT WAS ANOTHER classy exhibition as the big leaguers showed their appreciation for the splendid turnout.

The Chicago trio shone brightly all night and were exceptionally brilliant in the second period. They didn't fill the net with rubber, due to some exceptional goal-tending by Bill Durnan, but they drew rounds of applause for their speed and uncanny passing.

Lindsay, with a goal and two assists, was the top point-getter, while Max McNab beat Durnan twice and the Bentleys netted a goal and an assist apiece. Mosenko had two assists and Jack Stewart and Carveth fired the other goals.

TOE BLAKE, with two, Bobby Carse and Maurice Richard counted for the Canadiens.

Richard started the Canadiens off on the right foot when he stole the puck in the All-Stars' defence zone, went in close, feinted Broda off of position, and shoved it into the goal.

It was not until the 17-minute mark that the Stars got that one back. Stewart was the marksmen. He got possession of the disc about 15 feet out and let fly a high shot that was partially screened.

DOUG BENTLEY then gave the Stars a lead they never relinquished on as pretty a play as any fan could wish to see. Mosenko passed to Max Bentley, Max flipped a short pass between the defencemen to Doug, and the latter lifted the disc over Durnan as he sprawled on the ice in an effort to block the shot. Doug also wound up in the net.

Carveth ended the scoring in the first after a passing bout with Abel and Lindsay. Durnan blocked Abel's shot and Carveth was on the spot to flip it in.

Before play got underway in the second Doug Bentley was presented with a miniature silver hat for his feat of scoring three goals in a row in Friday's match.

EDMONTON'S BOBBY CARSE, who is now a member of the Canadiens' team, gave his club a new lease on life early in the second, finishing off a play with Gravelle and Fillion in fine fashion. He carried the disc in close and out-guessed Turk Broda.

Toe Blake tied up the game after taking a rink-wide pass at the blue line and sitting right in on Broda, but the Chicago aces turned.

Ask Assistance For Hog Raising

Federal government action to further encourage hog production was among a number of requests made recently by the joint delegation of the Alberta Farmers Union and the United Farmers of Canada (Manitoba section). It was learned Monday from AFU officials who have just returned from Ottawa.

On the question of wheat the government was asked to increase to $1.55 per bushel retroactive to August, 1943, and that the Canadian Wheat Board make up the difference between the domestic price and the export price on the 70,000,000 bushels per year used in Canada since 1943.

Injustice of having the wheat farmer "subsidize the rest of Canada" was stressed.

Speaking for farmers, the delegation asked among numerous other requests that changes in the income tax setup that exemptions be raised to $1,200 for single persons and $2,400 for married persons with a proportional increase to dependents.

POLICE COURT Gets Three Years For Housebreaking

Alex Twinn, Hobbema, could offer Magistrate A. I. Miller no explanation for his snooping in an ice box at the home of E. H. Barton, 12413 115 avenue, last April 19. Neither did he attempt to explain why he had entered the home of Emerson "Buck" Eaton, 9522 102A avenue, on the night of April 18.

In a city police court Monday he was sentenced to 18 months imprisonment on each of the two charges of housebreaking, the sentences to be concurrent. A charge of breaking into the residence of Robert Geary, 9520 102A avenue, was withdrawn.

Joseph Schmalz, 10024 115 street, drew a fine of $40 and costs or two months imprisonment on a dangerous driving charge. His drivers license was also suspended for two months.

Two city motorists, Harold E. Bell and Simon Fedor, pleaded guilty to speeding charges and were fined $15 and costs and $20 and costs respectively.

Hon. A. J. Hooke On Vancouver Trip

Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary, is away from his desk at the legislative buildings for the early part of this week. He is on a trip to Vancouver.

Among other engagements, Mr. Hooke is addressing the B.C. provincial Social Credit convention now being held in the coast city.

Art Display

Following a number of requests, the Edmonton Museum of Arts will be open to visitors on Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. Those interested in viewing the Hon. Vincent Massey collection of British paintings will have this opportunity to do so. Catalogues will be on hand to give valuable information in regard to the artists and in some instances some facts about a picture.

Offenders of the provincial liquor act drew fines totalling $215 plus costs of court. Eight persons were arrested on intoxication counts during the week-end and one for illegal possession of liquor.

There are several hundred varieties of cultivated rice.

CHAIRMAN—L. W. Caldwell, (Calgary) who was elected chairman of the prairie division, Canadian Manufacturers' Association at the annual meeting held in the Royal Alexandra Hotel, Winnipeg, on Thursday.

Leaves For Coast

Mrs. L. E. Hobbs, sister of Mrs. H. P. Mortimer of 10847 113 street, died at Vancouver Sunday. She was the daughter of late J. F. Smith, well-known old-timer in Edmonton. Mrs. Hobbs was born in Edmonton and attended school here. Mrs. Mortimer left to attend the funeral in Vancouver. Mr. Hobbs is survived by her husband.

Reduce Sentences

Appeals by Marvin Murphy and Bulah Caron against conviction and four months sentences imposed by Magistrate A. I. Miller, on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile resulted in a $25 fine in the case of the female appellant, and to $10 in Murphy's case. His honor Judge J. P. McIsaac heard the appeal.

Stampeders Play Royals Tonight

MONTREAL, April 29 (CP)—Montreal Royals, bidding for this city's first Allan Cup victory in 18 years, were in the favored spot today as they visited with Calgary Stampeders for the second game of their best-of-seven series for the Canadian senior hockey championship.

Winners 7-3 in Toronto Saturday night in the opening game, Royals have taken the advantage of two home games in a row—tonight and Thursday night—and in addition have gained the confidence a team always picks up with a victory over unknown opponents.

ROYALS returned home Sunday, their squad intact after the first game, and were followed into town yesterday by the Stampeders, defending the cup they won last year. Both squads planned to use the same men tonight as played in Toronto.

Threaten Cancel Both Race Meets

TORONTO, April 29 (CP)—Directors of the Ontario Jockey Club last night told Ontario horsemen that unless they receive acceptance of the condition book from a majority of the horsemen the Greenwood Hacing Club and the Ontario Jockey Club meetings here will be called off. Deadline for a reply was set at noon, May 2.

The Greenwood spring meet was scheduled to start at Woodbine Park here May 9 with the OJC meet following.

The statement was issued following a meeting Monday of OJC directors, under whose auspices the spring meetings are held.

Regina Building Football Machine

REGINA, April 29 (CP)—Saskatchewan's Roughriders Football Club officials said Monday two more Montreal players are enroute to Regina to take part in spring training, expected to start early next month.

The men who will join Art McEwan of Montreal, already here, are Stan Rose, a quarterback and Hadley.

Two more easterners, one from Ontario and another from Ottawa, will complete the Riders' imports along with one United States backfielder, officials said.

Twelve Divorce Decrees Granted

Twelve decrees absolute of divorce were granted Monday in supreme court by Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald.

The decrees were granted to Ethel B. Thompson from Eric Thompson; Sarah L. R. Rutt from Frederick A. Rutt; Claire Kremer from Lucian J. Kremer; Helene Dastous from Francois Dastous; Jean F. Donald from Francis X. Donald.

Calvert · 1622 MEN OF VISION Merritt · 1855

Painted for Calvert by Adam Sheriff Scott, R.C.A.

In 1855 MERRITT said:
"Form plans for the future"

In 1622 CALVERT said:
"Encourage the building of this country"

THREE HUNDRED YEARS AGO, Calvert, Man of Vision and founder of colonies in the New World, said: "My resolution is to build... it is a good country."

Famous English statesman and Secretary of State to King James I, Calvert said to his settlers: "Be partners and assist your neighbours... for unity."

Calvert's ideals of unity have been shared by all men of vision since Calvert's time in the early 1600's. Let each of us be a man of vision now... and "form plans for the future."

The full measure of our stature as a nation depends upon unity of purpose. There is only one Canada for clear-headed Canadians.

Story for Sale

This is the time of year when my wife inevitably asks me why I don't do something with a short story I wrote several years ago called "Matter of Time".

There is a reason why she asks it at this particular time, but that would give away the big, sensational finish which is about all the story has to start with anyway.

The truth is I am so darned tired of getting this story back from magazines with pastel-colored rejection slips and sympathetic little notes from editors that I am going to give it away for nothing. And well worth it, too.

The scene of this story is Murder-Row in a penitentiary. I describe this in great detail in the original story, considering the fact that I've never been inside a penitentiary.

In one of the cells in this guy, Big Ed. He is going to make a one-way hike to the electric chair at dawn for a murder he didn't commit.

As the story opens he is an hour away from the hot seat and, like I say in the original, "a stillness of approaching death clung to the cell." It is this kind of writing that may explain the rejection slips.

Big Ed is a big, simple boy ("a hulking, tragic figure") just barely able to tell the time. As a matter of fact, this is pretty important to the story because he is wearing a wrist watch and he consults it from time to time ("automatically, fearfully") and if it wasn't for his wrist watch there would be no story.

The Watch

The watch was given to Big Ed by Manny. The story gets a little complicated here, but if we take our time it will straighten out right.

Manny had been Big Ed's partner in crime. It was he and not Big Ed who had killed the cop. "As in all Manny's crimes, it had been a matter of time," is the way the original story goes. "It was time to hand Big Ed the still-smoking gun, to get away in the car while Big Ed crawled with a bullet in his side. They had found Big Ed, unconscious, a few feet from the dead cop. He had still held the gun in his hand."

You see, Manny had planned their crimes with split-second accuracy. They had been small time crooks, but successful. Manny had given Big Ed the watch to help him in their jobs.

Now we start getting to the exciting part. "When Big Ed looked at the watch again he was sure he was going crazy. He clutched the thing in a frenzy with his huge, clumsy hands. His breathing was smothered in sobs. He paced quickly the short distance across his cell and looked at the long, grey hall, fingers clutching at the bars of the cell door. The hall was empty, soundless. Big Ed looked at the watch once more and he sank to his cot, his great head in his hands.

The watch told him it was time to die."

And Payoff

Do you get the picture? There is Big Ed in his cell, his watch telling him that it is time for the execution, yet nothing is happening. You have to admit that is a whale of a scene.

The minutes kept ticking by. Big Ed put the watch to his ear. His pulsating was as steady as ever. He held it before him. The hands were marching on, every minute a reprieve.

"Slowly Big Ed's face split into a grin. His fear-crazed eyes cleared as those that awake from a ghastly dream. They seemed to see the watch and Big Ed suddenly laughed, deeply and easily."

Big Ed is still laughing an hour later when he hears footsteps in the hall and the Warden opens his cell door, comes in and sits down.

"You're going home, son," he says gently. "There was a hold-up. Your partner Manny was shot. He made a complete confession just before he died. An hour later and we would have executed an innocent man."

Big Ed is overcome. He lifts his hand to his brow. The watch comes into view.

"But warden," he stutters, "the watch, the time! I was supposed to die an hour ago."

The warden looks at the watch. A strange expression comes on his face.

"Your watch is an hour out, son," the warden said. "We changed time at midnight."

Visiting Railway Official States

Freight Rates Same as in 1940

Railways of Canada are moving freight for the same rates prevailing in 1940 despite a 50 per cent increase in operating costs. G. Norman, assistant transport economist, department of research and development, Canadian National Railways, said in an interview here Tuesday.

MR. NORMAN, who started railroading at 12 years of age, is in Edmonton from Winnipeg to address a luncheon meeting of the Gyr Club in the Macdonald hotel at noon Tuesday.

Mr. Norman said he could not comment on the application of Canadian railways for an increase of 30 per cent in freight rates as the matter is now before a railway rates board and any comment therefore would be premature.

The railways expert is, however, attempting to clear up popular misconception concerning operating costs and other problems confronting the Canadian railways in the post-war period.

Curriculum Group Meets May 30

Semi-annual meeting of the general curriculum committee of the department of education will be held Friday, May 30, Dr. W. H. Swift, deputy minister of education announced Tuesday.

"The committee consists of officials of the department, representatives of teachers, trustees, home and school associations and school superintendents.

Organizations which wish to submit briefs to the meeting are warned to do so before May 14.

Plan Reception

The Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Co. Ltd. will open its new offices and warehouse at 10255 104 street with a reception between 4:30 and 8 p.m., Wednesday.

The staff will show visitors through the buildings, and light refreshments will be served.

HARVEY ADMINISTRATOR

During absence of His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, on holiday at the Pacific Coast, Chief Justice Horace Harvey of the Alberta Supreme Court is acting as administrator, it was pointed out in an announcement at the Legislative buildings Saturday.

FOR ONE thing if all the land transport in the Dominion were to be handled by highway it would require the services of "every wage earner in the nation" and no one would be left to produce goods.

In the opinion of Mr. Norman this illustrates vividly the enormous role played by the railways in the lives of all Canadians.

The average cost to the shipping public of Canada for rail freight transportation is less than one cent per ton per mile and is lower than in practically every other modern nation on earth.

ANOTHER PROBLEM faced by Canadian railways is the great unproductive stretches of country, where rail lines must operate without return revenue, he pointed out.

Water transportation companies operate with publicly supported harbors and facilities while railways must provide their own facilities.

Competition is unfair to the railways in many respects as a result.

Continuous Rain Forecast Tonight

Showers increasing to continuous rain near midnight and ending Wednesday morning, are forecast here.

Winds are west at 20 miles per hour and will increase to 25 miles per hour Wednesday afternoon. Not much change in temperature is expected.

The maximum temperature yesterday was 64 degrees above at 5:30 p.m. while the low was 46 above at 6:30 a.m. The overnight low read 47 above at 4:30 a.m.

Estimated low temperature for tonight is 45 above. High for Wednesday is expected to be 66 above.

To Reach Maximum Wages in 4 Years

Superintendents of civic departments and their assistants will reach maximum salaries on a four-year, instead of a seven year schedule, city council decided Monday.

Request for the acceleration of the schedule was made by a committee of superintendents headed by Thomas Walker, city assessor.

Last year council set a salary schedule for superintendents which called for maximum salary being reached after seven years service.

The change in schedule will increase salary costs approximately $12,286.50 over the four years period.

Action Is Urged On Vets Housing

Immediate action by the federal government on the hitch developing here was urged in a telegram to Hon. Ian MacKenzie, minister of veterans affairs, from Montgomery Branch No. 24, Canadian Legion, Tuesday.

Dispatch of the telegram followed a meeting with local DVLA officials concerning halt in construction of 23 houses for war veterans on the old Grierson Estate.

The difficulty arose when some sub-contractors refused to continue work until paid $12,632 for work and materials put in the houses.

WHAT COUNCIL DID

Archives Committee Gets Name Expansion

City council agreed to the suggestion from the City of Edmonton Archives Committee that the committee's name be changed by the addition of "and Landmarks" to its title.

CONCURRED: Aldermen accepted the recommendation of the Town Planning Commission that property on the south side of Jasper avenue, between 116 and 118 streets, be rezoned from a "D" three-story multiple dwelling to "G" three-story business district, and that tractage property on 121 street between 106 and 123 avenues, be withheld from sale pending a further revision of zoning in the area.

DANGEROUS INTERSECTION: Referred to the city commissioners for consideration and report, a communication from Charles H. Lawford, 9919 83 avenue, on an alleged dangerous traffic situation which existed at 89 street and 86 avenue. Mr. Lawford was injured in an accident at this intersection on March 25 last, and previous to his accident a child was injured at the same avenue.

ASKS REZONE CHANGE: Referred an application from B. A. Quist, 7106 112 avenue, to the Town Planning Commission that his property be rezoned from one-family dwelling to local business district. The application is supported by the Bellevue Community League, and also by 103 residents in the district.

APPOINTED: Concurred in the recommendations of the council's nominations committee that Dr. E. S. Allen be appointed to the boxing and wrestling commission for the remainder of this year to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. W. F. Crang. Also approved was the recommendation from the committee that Mrs. Harold Thornton be appointed to the Recreation Commission for 1947 to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Ursula Forbes.

NAME CHANGED: Agreed to the suggestion of Thomas Ferrier that the street railway system be known in future as the "Edmonton Transit System."

A. H. ELLIOTT

Customs Collector Is Superannuated

Retirement of Alan H. Elliott as collector at the Edmonton customs port, was announced Tuesday.

He is retiring on superannuation after 12 years in the appointment of collector, and nearly 40 years in the federal civil service. His retirement is effective Thursday.

MR. ELLIOTT's career in the civil service was broken by military service in both World Wars. In the first, he rose from the ranks to become a major, and in the recent conflict he was made a Lieutenant-Colonel and commanded the army depot in Edmonton.

He has maintained a continuous interest in military affairs, from the time he joined a cavalry unit in his native Ulster, as a trooper. For a time he commanded the reserve unit of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment.

He arrived in Canada in 1906, and in 1909 joined the federal civil service here. In 1914 he became chief clerk, and in 1935 succeeded J. W. Shera as collector.

WHEN HE WAS first employed on the staff of the customs office here, the annual revenue was about $500,000, and in the last fiscal year it is estimated that collections will approach the $9,000,000 mark.

P. E. Dennison, chief clerk will act as collector until a permanent appointment is made.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott are leaving soon to reside at the Pacific coast.

following stopping of a contract by a chief contractor.

School Festivals In Final Stages

The Edmonton public school zone festivals entered the final stages Monday afternoon in the Westlawn auditorium with 509 elementary grade pupils participating in the program. More than 6,000 pupils from 33 city elementary and intermediate schools have taken part in the week-long festival.

Grade two to six pupils from Glenora, Sherbrooke, Oliver and Westmount schools took part in the program on Monday, which included gymnastics, chorus singing, dances and choral speeches.

The festival is continuing on Tuesday morning in the Westlawn school, with elementary pupils from Calder, Glenora, Oliver and Westmount schools participating. Junior high pupils from Calder, McDougall, McKay Avenue, Oliver, Riverdale and Westmount schools, will take part in the afternoon session. The Rev. Angus J. MacQueen was chairman of the Monday activities.

Pension Scheme Almost Complete

Proclamation of the civil service pension legislation, approved at the last session of the Alberta Legislature will probably be approved this week, according to Premier Ernest Manning.

The act, which will be retroactive to the first of 1947, contains provisions for the supply of pensions for retiring civil servants on a sliding scale and is on a contributory basis. Arrangements are made for the inclusion of civil servants who retire immediately after the act becomes effective.

Recommendations have been received for the appointment of the civil service representative on the board to administer the act. Announcement of this appointment will be made when the proclamation is officially made.

Employees of the Alberta Liquor Control board and the Workmen's Compensation board will also come under the provisions of the new act.

Union Asks $20 Boost

Civic Wage Impasse Going Before Council

Conflict between the city commissioners and the executive of the Edmonton Civic Employees' Federation on 1947 wage increases will be aired at the next regular meeting of city council.

MONDAY NIGHT in a report to council the commissioners stated "they had gone as far as they feel justified in meeting wage demands from the federation, and suggested that the request from the federation to lay its case before council be accepted to."

The major demand from the federation was a $20 monthly increase for all civic servants to meet the increased cost of living. Several other requests of a minor character were made.

It is understood the commissioners countered the $20 monthly increase proposal with a schedule of increases in certain categories, but the offer was not acceptable.

ALSO TO COME before the council at its next meeting is the protest from local union No. 30 against the promotion of J. Myler as a foreman in the parks department. It is contended by union officials that the seniority clause of the union's agreement has been violated by this department. Malcolm Ainslie, business agent for the union, asked that decision on this question be deferred until next council meeting to permit the written brief from the union. He said the union membership takes a very serious view of the alleged violation.

Aldermen referred a resolution from the Social Security League of Canada, Edmonton Branch, to the finance committee for consideration. This calls for payment of $60 monthly pension to every Canadian at 60 years of age, and asks also for abolition of the means test.

Leduc Old Timer Dies In Edmonton

Reinhold Biederman, old-timer of the Leduc district, died Monday morning at the home of his son, William, 9940 101 street. He was 78 years old.

Mr. Biederman went to Leduc in 1892, where he had farmed until his retirement 15 years ago. He came to Canada from Russia in 1890 and had worked in Manitoba for two years before going to Leduc.

He is survived by two sons, Emil of Leduc and William of Edmonton, six daughters, Mrs. A. S. Kuhn, Leduc; Mrs. Sam Felske, Calgary; Mrs. H. Henry, Schmidt, Leduc; Mrs. John Abel, Leduc; Mrs. Ludwig Schmidt, Leduc; and Mrs. Otto Kneller, Ellerslie, 36 grand children, and nine great grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Hainstock and Son.

Municipalities Elect Officers

Annual meeting of the Edmonton Union of Municipal Districts was held in the Corona Hotel on Monday. Nine of ten member districts were represented.

Officers elected were: president, G. W. Moyer, Fort Saskatchewan; vice-president, T. W. Roswell, North Edmonton; directors, Arthur Saligo, Villeneuve; E. A. Moen, Tofield; H. G. Young, Millet; and J. M. Sjven, Stony Plain. E. Keith, Clover Bar, was re-appointed secretary.

Municipal legislation passed at the recent session of the Legislature was reviewed and discussed. Discussions were held on the manner in which the government's capital and three-way road grants could be earned.

The meeting re-iterated its strong protest to the introduction of daylight saving time in isolated points in Alberta.

Police Seeking Escaped Youth, Man

Police were searching Tuesday for a 21-year-old juvenile and a 23-year-old man. The youth is reported to have escaped the custody of juvenile officers on the South Side on Monday.

The man John Dempsey left the Oliver Mental Institute about 10:15 p.m. Monday. He is six feet tall, weighs 162 pounds, has brown eyes and was wearing khaki pants and jacket, blue shirt. He had no hat.

City Lumber Group Hosts at Banquet

Members of the Edmonton Lumber Dealers' Association were hosts to directors of the Western Retail Lumber Dealers Association at a banquet in the Club Roosevelt Saturday night.

About 40 attending the gathering heard an address on "co-operation" from Gordon Konantz, president of the Western organization, which concluded a two-day business session here on Saturday.

George Watts, president of the Edmonton dealers association, and a director of the western organization, presided.

A. J. Brown, manager of the Clark Lumber Company of Edmonton, amazed the group with "black magic" falling only to pull needed lumber supplies from his wonderful hat.

Courtship Reveals Faults of Parties

If marriage was, in reality, the gamble that it is supposed to be and there was no way by which a man and a woman could find out before they took the fatal trip to the altar what sort of wife and husband they were getting, there would be some justification for the many unhappy weddings that never should have taken place, and that end in the divorce courts.

But such is not the case. There is a red light danger signal hanging out at every step of the road of courtship. Not one marriage in a thousand is the result of a guileless youth or an innocent maiden being tricked into espousing some plausible stranger of whom they knew nothing. The average man and woman have no desire to deceive their prospective mates, nor have they the skill to put on an act and pretend to be what they are not. And, above all, their self-esteem makes them feel that just as they are they are so attractive that they will be matrimonial prizes. So why gild the lily and paint the rose?

OF COURSE, there are exceptions to every rule. There is an occasional plunger who takes unto himself a mail-order wife, whom he has never seen until he meets her at the railroad station and recognizes her by having a pink rose pinned on her dress. And there are a few desperate old maids who are past being choosy and to whom any sort of husband looks good. And lately we have had the millions of marrying-at-first-sight cocktail marriages, induced by the war, that the divorce courts are trying to unscramble.

But the great majority of brides and bridegrooms are not strangers to each other. They are well acquainted. They are wise to each other's faults and foibles. And the queer thing is that with all of this inside information that they have, they still go on and marry the human derelicts they do.

I have, for instance, in today's mail a letter from a girl who has been engaged to a man for a year. She says that during that period he has slapped and beaten her many times and cursed her repeatedly. He is unsocial, will never have anything to do with her friends or relatives, nor permit her to. He never makes any effort to save any money, or to prepare a home for her. He dictates to her about what sort of clothes she shall wear. He quarrels with her about everything, and she is so miserable she doesn't know what to do. But still she is going to marry him.

CAN YOU BEAT that for wishful thinking? She knows what a hell on earth she is going into if she marries this cad, yet she is walking into the fiery furnace with her eyes open. And this foolish maiden, who should be making her way to the lunatic asylum instead of church, is not alone. Hundreds of such letters come to this column.

Girls marry men whom they know to be drunkards. They marry men whom they know they are going to have to work to support. They marry men who are unfaithful to them even before marriage. They marry men who are cruel and brutal, who beat them up, curse and revile them, and only God, who made that curious thing—a woman's mind—knows why they do it.

The excuse that a woman always offers for having made one of these disastrous marriages is that she loved the brute, and that she thought he would change after marriage and, anyway, that she was deceived. But she wasn't deceived. Marriage is no reformatory.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Sleeplessness would seem to be a popular complaint these days. And in reading the letters it is impossible not to notice how often the habit is related to an inadequate diet.

In some cases it has to do with the nursing baby nearing the age for weaning. The baby who has heretofore slept soundly all night is now waking once or twice and demanding to be fed. Weaning is definitely indicated.

And not much love revives being beaten up.

If women would look over their matrimonial bargains as carefully before they took them home with them as they do their hats, it would save them a lot of grief.

Some of the babies' formulas were noticeably lacking in sugar. Mothers use sugar in the tiny babies' formula and then begin tapering it off at too early an age. They speak of formulas containing eight ounces of milk, and hardly any water, and little or no sugar. And still the babies are dissatisfied and cannot sleep without night feedings, at six or seven months of age.

A little sugar may do wonders for such a formula and offer that complete satisfaction which leads to good sleeping. Up until nine or ten months of age most babies profit by having from three to four or more tablespoons of corn syrup or double this amount of maltose in the 24 hour supply of formula.

The amounts of extra foods are often woefully small. The mother feels that she is doing her duty when she feeds her baby one or two teaspoons of cereal, or vegetable or fruit sauce. Yet the average baby, given his head, will consume one-half to a whole can of commercially-prepared baby foods at a meal. As for home-prepared products, from two to several tablespoons is not at all too much.

Most babies, if given the opportunity, will take as much food as they want. But, they should be able to take all or almost all of their bottled formula afterwards.

The sleepless baby may be napping too long in daytime. There comes a time when the baby can not sleep well at night and take two naps a day. Always, there should be a period of two or three hours of wakefulness before the baby is put to bed for the night. Otherwise he may go to sleep promptly, but waken in a few hours, completely slept out and ready for play.

Our leaflet No. 38, "Sleeping Habits," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Points for Parents

Mother: "If you get out of bed again, I'll whip you! You have to take a nap every day. I need these two hours of peace and quiet."	Mother: "Since you no longer need a nap every day, you may rest and look at books, and go to sleep only when you want to."

Scolding creates tension and sleep requires relaxation, so it seems obvious scolding is a poor way of trying to make a child go to sleep.

U.S. Military Man Visits Local Base

On a trip described as a "routine inspection of the few remaining installations we still have in Canada," Lt.-Col. W. A. Wood, assistant military attaché to the U.S. embassy, Ottawa, was in Edmonton Monday.

While in the city he made courtesy visit to Maj.-Gen. F. T. Worthington, CBE, MC, MM, ED, commanding Western Command, Canadian army and Air Vice-Marshal Guthrie, air officer commanding Northwest Air Command, RCAF.

Why Grow Old?

Reducing is as simple as taking off the cream and drinking the milk, as Actress Joan Winfield, above, likes to do.

By Josephine Lowman
If you could read the letters which come to me about results from my nine-day reducing diet, your bulges would turn to water out of sheer fright.

You can lose five or ten pounds in nine days' time, on a diet which is satisfying and has been approved by a well-known physician! This week, while offering you this diet, I am also giving some rules which you can follow after the nine days are past, if you have more pounds to lose. Yesterday I outlined the items a reducing diet must have. Today I will give you some of the things you must avoid. Milk? Yes, but with the cream off. A glass of sweet milk, sans cream, has only about eighty calories and provides you with many health essentials. Milk is often left off reducing diets because it is thought of as a fattening food, which indeed it is, if the cream is imbibed. You need the minerals and vitamins which milk contains

350 Courses For Banquet Father Divine

PHILADELPHIA, April 29 (AP)—Father Divine, billboard, five-foot Negro evangelist and self-styled "God," will celebrate the first anniversary of marriage to a 22-year-old white girl with a seven-hour banquet of 350 courses.

Divine was wed to attractive, blonde Edna Rose Ritchings of Montreal last April 29, but he told shrieking followers at the time it was "in name only."

"God is not married," he preached.

"It's true, it's beautiful," followers shouted.

Tuesday at Pinebrook, N.J.—one of the several properties he owns and calls his "Heavens"—Divine and his bride will entertain hundreds of members of his religious cult.

An aide disclosed that 60 barrels of chickens will be served.

On his marriage licence, Divine gave his age as 41—but he insists he was wed to his late wife "on June 6, 1882."

and it also builds up your protein intake. If you prefer butter-milk, drink that. It has about the same number of calories as sweet milk with cream removed.

I do not need to tell you, unless you can keep yourself outraged, that whipped cream on desserts, and cream over your baked apple or in your coffee or mashed potatoes, is a well-known trouble maker for the woman who is reducing. In fact, you might as well forget all desserts and substitute fresh fruit (not canned), eat baked potatoes rather than mashed or fried and with no butter and drink your coffee black.

Soft drinks are sabotage, too. One coke a day, if you must have one, is all that a restricted diet can stand. Bottled drinks, alcoholic drinks and soda fountain mixtures do not belong on the reducing diet.

If you wish to lose five to ten pounds in nine days' time, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 39 "Nine-Day Reducing Diet" to Josephine Lowman in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Minimum Wage Approval Expected

A raise in male minimum wages to 55 cents an hour and a corresponding increase in female minimum wages is expected as a result of a new wage schedule to be presented to the provincial cabinet on Tuesday.

The present hourly wage minimum for males over 21 years of age is 45 cents an hour.

Present minimum weekly wage rates are $20, but it is expected that the new order will raise this to $25.

The 20 per cent wage boost thus predicted is the first of a series of new orders to be issued by the board of industrial relations making use of the powers granted to the board by terms of legislation approved at the latest session of the Alberta Legislature.

Other orders dealing with hours of work and minimum wages for specific industries are expected to come before the cabinet in the near future.

Definite announcement of the new rates will be made when the new schedule is proclaimed.

By William E. McKenney
Today's hand was played in the Vanderbilt Cup Tournament, emblematic of the national knockout team-of-four championship. Experts often refer to percentage plays, but when Harry Fishbein, one of the Vanderbilt Cup winners, describes a hand of this type, he will say, "If you make this play, you will have another play running for you."

The question is, when you are in dummy with the king of spades, should you take the heart finesse or the diamond finesse? Fishbein reasons that if you take the diamond finesse and it loses, there are three hearts to the king on your right, you lose the contract because you can get into dummy only once.

The correct play, in Fishbein's opinion, is to lead a small heart from dummy and when East plays low to finesse the ten spot. When it holds the trick you lay down the ace of diamonds. When both sides follow, you make the safety play of leading a small diamond. West will have to win this trick with the queen. West's best return probably is the jack of spades which is won in dummy with the ace.

Now if the declarer carelessly led another heart, West could trump it and defeat the contract. So the careful declarer would cash the jack of diamonds and then take another heart finesse.

Porpoises were a favorite fish day food in Europe for years before science discovered they were not fish at all, but mammals.

ALI BABA AND THE FORTY THIEVES
Summary of a Famous Tale from "The Arabian Nights' Entertainment."

INSTALMENT I
Ali Baba was a poor man who lived with his wife in a town in Persia. One day he went into the forest to cut some firewood. He saw a band of forty thieves, and climbed into a tree and hid himself.

The tree grew beside a great rock, and the forty thieves came to this rock and cried: "Open, Sesame!" A the thieves went in and placed there the gold and silver they had door open, leading into a cave, and stolen. Then they came out and carried: "Shut, Sesame!" The cave closed up, and they rode away.

Ali Baba then came down from the cave and hid himself in the tree, and watched the thieves carrying sacks of gold and silver into the secret cave.

When he started to take away the sacks, he forgot the words that opened the cave, and so could not get out.

While he was trying to think of the right word, the forty thieves returned, found him in the cave, and killed him.

The next day, Ali Baba went to get some more gold and discovered the body of his brother. He carried it away and had it buried.

Then, in accordance with Persian customs, he took his widowed sister-in-law into his home. With her came a clever female slave whose name was Morgiana.

When the forty thieves found that the body of Cassim had been removed from the cave, they were full of fear.

"So there's another man who knows our secret!" said the captain of the thieves. "But I know how to find him."

He disguised himself, went to the town, and inquired if a man who had been slain by the sword had recently been buried. He at last learned that such a man had been buried by Ali Baba.

"Now," said the captain to his men, "I must arrange to get all of you hidden in the house of this Ali Baba: and you must come out at night, kill everybody there, and escape without being seen."

Withdraw Troops When "Practicable"
LONDON, April 29 (AP)—S. P. Mayhew, foreign under-secretary, told the Commons Monday that Britain had not set a definite date for withdrawing all her troops from Greece.

Under questioning by Communist member Philip Piratin, Mayhew said: "I cannot go further than to say that we shall withdraw these troops as soon as practicable."

Dies at 115
NEW GLASGOW, N.S., April 29 (CP)—Believed to be the oldest woman in Canada, Mrs. Flora Campbell died in nearby Pictou County home Sunday night at the age of 115. A native of Arichat, N.S., she was a daughter of Capt. Albert Girouard, a Nova Scotia sailing skipper,

Eddie started his new job today!

THE MANAGER of the furniture factory in Eddie's town landed a big order. It meant he had to buy a lot of extra lumber, increase his payroll.

He lost no time in putting the whole thing up to the manager of his local bank. Together they worked out how much money he would need to take care of wages and other costs until he delivered the goods. Then, with the backing of his bank, he got to work on the order.

And that's where Eddie came in. He was put on the payroll—given his first chance to learn a trade. Right now he's on his way home to tell Mom and Dad how much he likes his new job.

THIS IS ONE INSTANCE of how Canada's 3,200 branch banks play their part in the daily life and work of Canadians.
